A group of Danielson people was at the graves of the north shore of Alexander's lake for an outing Friday.

Even the introduction of a one-man car on the Moosup-Central Village line of the Connecticut company was not enough to bring the revenue up to a point where the service is paying as it should.

But perhaps Moosup and Central Village are not interested in whether they continue to have trolley service permanently.

Fresh air kiddies who are staying in this territory were entertained Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Smith on Allen Hill in the town of Brooklyn.

Organized games and contests and other features were included in a program that gave the young people a day of delight.

Inspector R. C. Young of the state automobile department has learned what it means to experience a woman's wrath. Having been driven practically out of the highway by the driver of a Rhode Island machine who was "hogging" the road.

The inspector turned about and his lip was curled in a scornful smile. The driver, who stood the questioning as long as she could and then "blew" up and let forth a frenzied torrent of words, even suggesting that she be haled into court.

She could have her ideas officially recorded, which probably would have meant jail for her. But the inspector entirely ignored her and courteously allowed her husband the driver to go on after giving him a warning about road rules.

Girls' club members will assist today (Saturday) in making a final Tag day drive for the Salvation Army Home Service fund. Danielson's apportionment not having been fully raised as yet.

A part of the money raised will be used to house canvass and visitations in the business section are planned as a means of reaching as many people as possible.

Capt. and Mrs. William Sowers of the Salvation Army, secretaries from Hartford, were in Putnam to conduct services at the local Salvation Army hall Friday evening.

Funeral services for Mrs. Virginia Marie Benoit, 51, who died Wednesday at her home on Pomfret street, were held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at St. Mary's church. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Capt. John Bulger of the Putnam police department has not been able to locate the owner of the Chandler chummy roadster that he found on the state highway near the home of Frank O. Davis in Pomfret Center late Thursday afternoon.

The car was abandoned at that place a few hours earlier by two young men who immediately disappeared and of whom no trace has been found.

The police of Putnam and Springfield believe to be a stolen machine, first came to the attention of Captain Bulger Thursday morning when in backing out of Bullock street to Main it broke a street signpost and sped away without reporting the damage.

The accident was seen by Captain Bulger, who gave chase, but who was unable to overtake the speeding roadster. He was able to stop the machine, Massachusetts 6545, and in telephoning to the Springfield police Friday learned that the car with that registration belongs to Archer Simpson, 186 Central street, Springfield. Records, however, showed that the car owned by Mr. Simpson at the time the license plates were issued to him was a Buick.

Chief Quilty of Springfield is trying to determine whether or not the car found in Pomfret is his. Chief Bulger is inclined to think that it is, because in the abandoned car was found one-half of a shipping tag with the name Simpson written upon it.

The abandoned car, which is a 1915 or 1916 model, has the serial number 37780 and carries the body number 887. Until more definite information concerning the car is available, Captain Bulger is holding it at police headquarters in Putnam.

When the car was found Thursday the tools were strewn about, the curtains were thrown along the highway and the gasoline tank was empty.

After abandoning the car the drivers went to a nearby house and asked permission to stay on the plaza until the thunder shower then in progress passed over. Though this was granted, the two men remained but a few minutes.

The police believe that they went to the Pomfret station, which is not far away, and there boarded a train.

Miss Rosamond Danielson of Putnam, who has charge of the local arrangements for the citizenship institute, or three-day school, which will be conducted by the citizenship department of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage association at Willimantic next week, Friday announced the program as follows:

The will of Mrs. Mary A. Gardner, widow of John Gardner, who died last Saturday at her home on South Main street, has been filed with the judge of probate. Under it the town of Putnam is devised the real estate of the testatrix, consisting of the homestead property on South Main street, under the condition that a public library be maintained there in memory of Mrs. Gardner and her husband. Providing that the library is maintained, the town may use the property as it sees fit. In addition to this Mrs. Gardner made several other public bequests, including $1,000 to the Day Kimball hospital, the W. C. T. U. $500, and $5,000 to the village of Ellington. In remembering the town of her birth, Mrs. Gardner says in her will: "I give to the village of Ellington the sum of $5,000 to be invested in trust funds by said town, and known as the Wadsworth fund, the interest from said fund to be used first for the Wadsworth lot and monument in Ellington cemetery, and the balance for the improvement of the village as the selectmen may direct, but I require that suitable flowers be placed on the graves in said cemetery lot each Memorial day."

Under the third paragraph of the will the town of Putnam benefits by gift under a will for the first time in the history of the town. This paragraph reads as follows: "I give to the town of Putnam all of my real estate situated in the town of Putnam, comprising my home on South Main street and continuing through School street, to be used by said town as a free public library in memory of John H. and Mary Wadsworth Gardner, the town to use said land and buildings as they see fit, but must at all times maintain a public library on the premises."

The bulk of Mrs. Gardner's estate, which is estimated at over $100,000, is left to her niece, Miss Fannie E. Barber, of Ellington. Miss Barber is left a special bequest of $20,000, silver, jewelry and pictures, and is made residuary legatee. Other bequests are to Marcella J. Carpenter, Putnam, $1,000; Mrs. Georgianna Longdon, Putnam, $1,000; Miss Nellie A. Clark, Webster, $1,000; Mrs. Ella T. Clark, Hartford, $1,000; Nellie Keith, South Manchester, $1,000; John F. Carpenter, Putnam, $1,000; J. J. Russell, Putnam, $1,000; Advent church, Putnam, $1,000; Katherine Frawley, Thompson, $1,000; G. Harold Gilpatrick, Thompson, $1,000; G. Harold Gilpatrick is appointed executor of the estate.

About 4 o'clock Friday afternoon an automobile from Jolamond Brothers garage, registry Conn. 2447, and a trolley car on the Connecticut company lines were in collision on Main street at the corner of Water street. The car was southbound and the automobile was headed in the opposite direction. In an effort to avoid the collision the driver of the automobile applied his emergency brakes. The machine slid nearly 75 feet with the wheels locked. The driver managed to turn the machine so that the trolley side-swiped it, ripping the rear mudguard.

Judge Mahlon H. Geisler and Horatio Brown were in Voluntown Friday afternoon on a fishing trip.

Automatic Trains For Mail. Bids have been asked from the principal electrical engineering firms for the equipment of the postoffice tube railway on which trains are to be run without driver or other attendant. The system, which is new, has been evolved after long investigation by the engineers of the postoffice. Many trial runs have been made on an experimental track at Woolwich, in which the gauge, gradients and radii of curves of the actual line were reproduced, and these tests have shown that the method is capable of achieving all that is required.

The first section of the line extends over six and one-half miles from the western terminus at Paddington district postoffice to the eastern district postoffice at Whitechapel. The tube will not only link up these two offices, but also the western district and western central district postoffices, the western parcels office, the mail-sorting office at Mount Pleasant, the new general postoffice, the northwestern railway through the Broad street terminus and the Great Eastern Railway. To avoid other tube lines the depth of the railway from the surface varies between twenty-eight feet and about ninety feet.—London Times Cuts Teeth at 84. A third set of teeth was cut by a Memphis man of 84 recently.

N. D. Starr, of Memphis, found himself in need of a set of artificial substitutes for the teeth provided by nature. But when he visited his dentist the price was too high, and he decided to go toothless. However, through one of the unaccountable happenings which sometimes upset all rules, Mr. Starr discovered that he was cutting twelve new teeth. They are almost through now, although they are not very useful yet, owing to the fact that his gums are sore, in a fashion familiar to all mothers of teething infants or to boys and girls whose second teeth are replacing their baby teeth, and even to the older boys and girls who proudly announce "I'm cutting a wisdom tooth."

Dentists doubtless will contend that such a thing cannot happen. But Mr. Starr knows that he now has teeth where he has none before. Moreover, he says his eyesight is better than it was several years ago, and that so far from his being impaired by advancing years he feels stronger and more youthful than he did when he was 70.—Memphis Commercial Appeal

Vicarious Courtship. Under the social ideals of China every man is anxious to marry, but no man is permitted to seek a wife for himself. The contract of marriage is always made by a third party, and often a man finds himself bound to an imbecile, insane or chronically diseased wife, whose father has paid the marriage broker a high price to get her a husband.

Effect of Sugars and Fats. The fatuous soul who takes a long walk to reduce and comes home with a fine appetite, or perhaps eats half a pound of candy en route, is putting on weight instead of taking it off. Translated, this means that sugars and fats are quick and complete burning fuel for the human body.

"Ain't That the Truth?" Francie was having a heart to heart talk with his grandmother. She was trying to impress upon him the importance of learning something every day. His reply was: "Take it from me, grandma, little boys know lots of things grandmas don't know anything about."
